

We are delighted to invite you to a conference in honor of
Professor Irad Malkin celebrating his more than 40 years of teaching and service at Tel Aviv University

Monday, 26.11.2018
Gilman 496

Networks and Changing Identities in the Ancient Greek World

9:00 - 9:15

Opening Remarks:

Jonathan J. Price, Tel Aviv University

9:15 - 10:45

Chair: Benjamin Isaac, Tel Aviv University

Assaf Yasur-Landau, University of Haifa

Bronze and Iron Age Anchorages and Ports as Loci of Maritime Adaptation

Josephine Quinn, Oxford University

The Iron Age Mediterranean and the Art of Running Away

Coffee Break

11:00 - 12:30

Chair: Youval Rotman, Tel Aviv University

Ory Amitay, University of Haifa

Cabbages to Kingship: Mythical-Political Spins in the Early Hellenistic Levant

Sylvie Honigman, Tel Aviv University

From Relaxed Privilege to White Male Anger: The Shifting Definition of Greek Identity in Alexandria through the Transition from Ptolemaic to Roman Rule

Lunch Break

14:00 - 16:15

Chair: Jonathan Price, Tel Aviv University

Greetings: Aviad Kleinberg, Head of the School of Historical Studies

Hans Joachim Gehrke, Albert-Ludwigs-Universität Freiburg

Migrating Greeks between Myth and History:

The Case of Thera and Cyrene

Eyal Meyer, University of Haifa

Coping with Betrayal: The Rehabilitation of Greek Medizers in the Aftermath of the Persian Wars

Elon Heymans, Utrecht University

A Colonial Middle Ground: Precious Metal and Money in the Northern Aegean

Coffee Break

16:30 - 18:00

Chair: Rachel Zelnick-Abramovitz, Tel Aviv University

Cecilia D'Ercole, École des hautes études en sciences sociales, Paris

Kata thalassan: The Western Mediterranean Networks of Maritime Circulation and the Sanctuary of Dodona

Yulia Ustinova, Ben Gurion University of the Negev

The Story of a New Name: Mixellenes and Mixed Cults Around the Black Sea

18:00

Closing remarks: Professor Irad Malkin