

Tel-Aviv University
The Shirley and Leslie Porter School of Cultural Studies
Department of Linguistics
THURSDAY INTERDISCIPLINARY COLLOQUIUM

February 25, 2016, Prof. Alex Grosu, Tel Aviv University

"Two case studies in (in)definiteness and (in)determinacy:
FRs/TFRs and (in)definite amount relatives"

March 3, 2016, Dr. Vered Silber-Varod, The Open University

"A linguistic perspective on hesitation disfluencies: Evidence from Hebrew and Japanese"

March 10, 2016, Yael Greenberg, Bar-Ilan University

"Metalinguistic Contrast and Scalar Implicatures: The case of x, but (really) X"

March 17, 2016, Dr. Julie Fadlon, University of California, San Diego

"There's a pronoun which I don't like to hear but I do like to produce it: what modulates the effect of resumption on processing? "

March 31, 2016, Reem Bshara & Sharon Armon-Lotem, Bar-Ilan University

"Production of relative clauses by Arabic speaking children with Language Impairment – two sources of difficulty"

April 7, 2016, Omer Korat, Tel Aviv University

"Semantic Shifts in the Nominal Domain"

April 14, 2016, Prof. Outi Bat-El, Tel Aviv University

"Hebrew stress: Back to the Future"

May 5, 2016, Assif Am-David, Goethe University, Frankfurt

"Conventional implicatures as a meaning component in definites"

May 19, 2016, Si Berebi, Tel Aviv University

TBA

June 2, 2016, Prof. Guglielmo Cinque, University of Venice

TBA

June 9, 2016, Inbal Abarbanel, Tel Aviv University

"From Bambara to Hebrew- Perception of Lexical Tone by Speakers of a Non-Tonal Language"

•The meetings are at 4:15pm in Webb 103 (unless otherwise announced)

• Refreshments are served after the lecture at Webb 401

If you wish to get a weekly announcement and last moment changes,
Add your name to the mailing list by sending a request to ruthzu@tauex.tau.ac.il